WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS
CURES HUNGER.

Most Widely Used and Recommended for All Cases of Debility.

Whether it results from accidents, from lack of nutrition, from indigestion, or whatever, a deficiency of blood is simply a deficiency of strength. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new blood. They strengthen the nerves and the system, and they have cured many cases of debility.

My strength began to return. I was able to take solid food and for the first time in many months I was able to take a cup of tea or beef.

Business Men of Kansas City Receive Commissions From Unknown Sources.

MEMORIES ON STAND
PROVE VERY DEFECTIVE

Firms Failed to Keep Any Record of the Large Amounts They Received.

KANSAS CITY, May 24.—Members of half a dozen large business firms admitted here today at the trial in the Federal court of George H. Crosby, the Burlington traffic manager; George L.
Thomas, the New York freight broker, and the latter's clerk, L. B. Taggart, that they had received thousands of dollars in commissions from "unknown sources."

Witnesses Don't Know.
All of the firms had hired Thomas to attend to the shipping of their goods from the Atlantic seaboard to their stores in St. Louis and Kansas City, but none of the witnesses would say that these sums of money had come from Thomas. W. E. Emery, a member of the Emery Bird Thayer Dry Goods company, who admitted receiving from $1500 to $2000 a year, said he did not know who sent it, but "supposed it came from Thomas."

No Record Kept.
Notwithstanding the large sums thus paid in commissions, none of the firms had kept any record of the amounts, according to the witnesses. All payments were made in New York.

Several officials of the Burlington railroad were examined as to the payment of these commissions by that company, but their testimony developed the fact that the vouchers for the amounts had disappeared.

Denies Conspiracy.
The government rested their side of the case in the afternoon, when Judge O. M. Spencer, for the defendants, filed a demurrer in all the cases, arguing that no evidence had been produced to show a case of conspiracy, and even if such evidence had been presented the court lacked jurisdiction, as the alleged crime was committed in New York and not in Missouri. He asked that the case of Crosby be dismissed.

Judge Smith McPherson overruled the motion as to Crosby and said that argument on the demurrer would be had tomorrow morning, to which time the court adjourned.

Did Not Know Source.
T. H. McKittick, president of the Hargadine-McKittick Dry Goods company of St. Louis, the first witness, who had testified that he had employed Thomas at a salary of $500 a year to look after the interests of his firm in the matter of railway rates and routing from the East, admitted that he had received various sums of money from
"unknown sources."

In one instance, Mr. McKittick testified, a person whom he did not know, entered his (McKittick's) office in New York City one day and handed him a bundle of money, containing between $400 and $500.

Was Densely Ignorant.
Mr. McKittick declared that he did not know the man who had given him this money; that he had not seen him; that he did not believe he would be able to identify the man, and further, that he did not know for what purpose the money was given him, nor from what source it came.

At this point, District Attorney Van Valkenburgh requested W. E. Kelby, Thomas's clerk, to stand up and, pointing to Kelby, asked of the witness:
"Is this the man who handed the money to you in your New York office?"

"I do not know; I do not believe I could identify the man," replied Mr.
McKittick.

Was to Save Money.
McKittick, continuing his testimony, said that he had employed Thomas while he was in New York on May 1, 1902, signing a contract, which was renewed again in 1903. Thomas had, he said, solicited employment, claiming that he would be able to ship goods to McKittick's house from the East in the most economical way and by the railroad, giving the best service.
Thomas's duties also were to include the settlement of all cases of losses in shipments and overcharges, and to obtain from Lowell, Mass., and other mill centers, the usual mill allowances of furnishings who accepted freight on a basis of shipment from New York.
Thomas had been employed later on the same conditions, but with no new contract.

Could Not Remember.
In reply to a direct question Mr. Mc-Kittick said that he had at various times received money from "unknown sources."

Witness then detailed the receipt of the money in his New York office from an unknown man. Continuing, he said that some of the money had been received by express. In this manner, he said, his firm had within four or five years received about $10,000, during which time they had paid out $400,000 in freight charges. In one instance, he said he had received some money personally and this he had deposited in his brother's private bank.

To Secure Commissions.
On cross-examination, Mr. McKittick said that in seeking employment Thomas had said he would get any legitimate commissions from railways that McKittick's firm might be entitled to and from any water lines not subject to the Interstate Commerce act.

Witness said he and Thomas had talked over the matter of rebates, and it was agreed that no rebates were to be sought. He did not know that the money received in his New York office or by express had come from Thomas.

The next witness was Hugh McKittick, son of T. H. McKittick and vice-president of the Hargadine-McKittick Dry Goods company.

Just "Odds and Ends." Hugh McKittick testified to receiving money twice while in the New York office. Once in 1902 an express package containing $2000 was received by witness. He did not know where it came from. The money was credited in a book used for "odds and ends." "At another time," said the witness, "a gentleman came and handed me the money and said it was coming to me." He did not know the man, did not ask him his name and did not care to know it.

Mr. Kelby, Thomas's clerk, was asked to stand up, but McKittick was unable to identify him as the man who had given him the money.

Was a Good Graft.
J. K. Burnham, president of the Burnham, Hanna & Munger Dry Goods company of Kansas City, testified he had hired Thomas at a salary of $1000 a year for attending to the freight business of the firm's Kansas City and Detroit houses. Burnham admitted receiving $43,000 from Thomas in the past three years.

"This was, I suppose," said witness, "for mistakes in classification, claims for damages, etc. All money was paid to me in New York, I think."

Cash Would Come In.
W. E. Emery, a member of the firm of Emery, Bird, Thayer Dry Goods company of Kansas City, testified that he had hired Thomas for four or five years at a salary of $500 a year, and that in that time he had received between $1500 to $2000 a year. This money was given him at his office in New York. Some one would call him up on the telephone, witness said, and say that if he (Emery) were to be in his office for a while something would be sent him. Later, a package containing money would be sent in. He did not know who had sent it, but supposed it came from Thomas.
